

10th ANNUAL HARVARD PLANT BIOLOGY SYMPOSIUM

FROM LEAVES TO ECOSYSTEMS Plants in a Changing World

Symposium Day 1

Tuesday, May 5, 4:00pm

Harvard Geological Lecture Hall
24 Oxford Street, Cambridge, MA

SPECIAL LECTURE:

Chris Field, Carnegie Institution for Science

The Harvard Plant Biology Symposium is FREE and OPEN TO THE PUBLIC. Please note that registration is required for Day 2 of the Symposium at Weld Hill on May 6th. Lunch will be provided.

To register, go to:
<http://hwpi.harvard.edu/pbi>

Symposium Day 2

Wednesday, May 6, 8:45am – 5:30pm

Weld Hill at Arnold Arboretum
1300 Centre Street, Boston, MA

SPEAKERS:

Carol Augspurger, University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign

Joe Berry, Carnegie Institution for Science

Zoe Cardon, Marine Biological Laboratory

Todd Dawson, University of California, Berkeley

Jim Ehleringer, The University of Utah

Graham Farquhar, Australian National University

Christian Körner, University of Basel

Beverly Law, Oregon State University

Joy Ward, The University of Kansas

Harvard University
Department of Organismic and Evolutionary Biology

Harvard University
Center for the Environment

The ARNOLD
ARBORETUM
of HARVARD UNIVERSITY